COVID-19 UPDATE FROM PASTOR BEN

Hello friends, having reviewed the new provincial guidelines released today, we will be celebrating worship as usual this weekend, including communion, but we are asking everyone who is able to wear a mask. As we move forward into the fall, our plans for fall church events are all still moving ahead, though with the extra care and masking that is being asked of us, but we remain as committed as ever to the principle that families need to gather for worship, children and teens need to hear the gospel in language that they understand, and the community needs to continue gathering together regularly to pray and to study God's Word. Our goal continues to be to strike a balance that includes careful attention to community health, and also careful attention to the spiritual needs of our families and neighbours. God bless you all my friends, and may he guard and guide our pathway forward. Please do also feel free to contact me directly at the church office if you have any questions or concerns. - Pastor Ben
